DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response to the amendment filed on May 14, 2007.

Applicants have amended claim 1. Claims 1-17 are currently pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nakagawa et al (WO-99/43719 – WIPO publication is used for date purposes and the English language equivalent US 6,964,999 B1 for column and line numbers of text).

The rejection is adequately set forth in paragraph 2 of the previous office action dated February 14, 2007 and is incorporated herein by reference.

In addition, see example 3 wherein polymerization is conducted in two stages i.e. involves initial formation of a polymer of bromo-terminated n-butyl acrylate and polymerizable double bond is then incorporated at the terminal of said vinyl polymer to form methacryloyl terminated poly(butyl acrylate).

4. Claims 1-11 and 16-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nakagawa (EP 1 000 954 A1).

Art Unit: 1713

The rejection is adequately set forth in paragraph 3 of the previous office action dated February 14, 2007 and is incorporated herein by reference.

In addition, see example 1 wherein the polymerization is conducted in two stages.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

7. Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nakagawa (EP 1 000 954 A1) in view of Nakagawa et al (WO-99/43719 – WIPO publication is used for date purposes and the English language equivalent US 6,964,999 B1 for column and line numbers of text).

The discussion with respect to Nakagawa (' 954) in paragraph 4 above is incorporated herein by reference.

The discussion with respect to Nakagawa et al (WO-99/43719) in paragraph 6 of the previous office action dated February 14, 2007 and is incorporated herein by reference.

Response to Arguments

8. In response to the applicant's argument that Nakagawa et al disclose the use of radical capping agent as a polymerization initiator at the time of monomer polymerization, examiner maintains the rejection because claim language does not recite a mechanism by which the stable free radical operates. Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., stable free radical suppresses further reaction of double bond and suppresses deterioration, i.e. increase in viscosity and gelatification, thereby contributing to the production of high quality vinyl polymer terminated with a group having a polymerizable carbon-carbon double bond.) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Art Unit: 1713

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
